MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dr. Mizanur R. Miah

Greetings from the SIUC School of Social Work! Since our last publication of the e-newsletter, many glowing accolades have been added to our achievements list. Faculty productivity and scholarship have virtually peaked this year compared to the last five years of my tenure as the School's Director (please see a list of faculty scholarships in this issue). As you can see, faculty published two time-honored books, a number of peer-reviewed journal articles, and have presented research papers and posters in several international, national, regional, and state conferences in this calendar year. Our students also brought in unprecedented distinction for us in terms of gaining five President Walker Memorial Scholarships, one PROMT fellowship and several SIUC Graduate School Tuition Scholarships for Spring, Summer, and Fall 2007. On top of this, our Integrated Assessment grant, now in its third year, has grown to 5.5 million dollars for FY 2007-08, the largest grant at SIUC, which currently employs 34 clinical screeners, 8 supervisors, and 2 administrators and 2 researchers. Moreover, graduate and undergraduate enrollments have gone up substantially this semester over the last five years.

Our international education initiatives are also thriving vibrantly: we are now conducting four Study Abroad Programs (SAPs) that include Germany, India, Mexico, and Ecuador as destinations, the highest numbers among all such programs conducted by SIUC. Let me also share a matter of another high distinction and honor with you for this year: we were one among the top five schools nominated for the 2007 Partners in International Education (PIE) Award from the CSWE and its Global Commission (out of 514 universities offering CSWE-accredited combined BSW-MSW programs in the USA). Even though we were not able to capture the GOLD this year, the nomination itself augurs exceptional honor for us for being one of the top social work program leaders in the field of international education in the United States. I am also proud to note that our Certified Education Program (CEP) for the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) has come to fruition very successfully within the stipulated time period in three out of five field offices located in Jordan, Lebanon, and West Bank, where we had our inaugural commencement ceremonies during Thanksgiving week this year.

Our heartfelt congratulations are in order for Dr. Julie Steen and Dr. Dhrubodhi Mukherjee, who have successfully launched our fall 2007 issue of the e-newsletter.

Finally, friends, well-wishers, and alums, wherever you are and whatever you do, please stay connected with YOUR alma mater and the School. Please share with us your thoughts, achievements, and glory as you advance in your career paths and beyond. As always, we count on your unqualified support and blessings. Your success is our success and your pride is our pride! Please keep us posted. Best regards, best wishes, and a warm SALUKI salute!

Sincerely,

Mizanur R. Miah

ALUMNAE AT CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES

“My dream has always been to work with adoptions. I thought I would have to work with several jobs before this would happen. I’m so happy I found the job that I went to school to study for!” comments Reta Kendall, one of three SIUC School of Social Work interns recently hired by Catholic Social Services. Ms. Kendall served as an undergraduate intern at Matthew’s and Associates in Herrin. In fall of 2006, she began her graduate internship at Catholic Social Services. When an Adoption Specialist position became open in February, Reta was hired.

Angela Jackson completed her undergraduate internship with the Department of Children and Family Services at the Murphysboro Regional Office. Ms. Jackson began her graduate internship at CSS in fall of 2006.

As a position in Foster Care opened in January, both she and the agency knew she was the right choice for the position.

A third graduate level intern, Naoko Watanabe, will begin her employment as a Foster Care Case Worker in June 2007. Ms. Watanabe states that she is very happy to be able to continue working in a field where she has served as an intern. The three graduates agree that it is a great transition to begin employment in the agency in which they first learned about the field as interns. “It is good to work with people who are also fellow classmates” stated Reta Kendall.

Catholic Social Services has offered volunteer experiences and internships for SIUC students for over ten years. Mary Lou Loos, the Regional Director at Catholic Social Services, commented, “ The internship gives the students the opportunity to know if this area of social work is what they want to do. It gives the agency an opportunity to observe at close hand, the work ethic, skills and natural abilities of the potential employees. It has benefits for both the students and the agency. We’ve been fortunate to have some great interns!”

ALUMNA RECOGNIZED FOR WORK IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

A recent MSW graduate, Cherie Green, has been recognized for her work by the Illinois Coalition for Community Services. On June 8, 2007, the Coalition held a banquet in Springfield, Illinois to honor those who have dedicated their time, energy, and talent to making Illinois a better place for all citizens.

Cherie Green, along with her husband Gary Green, established Supporting People in Need. This agency engages in a number of social service efforts, including sheltering and clothing low income residents of Southern Illinois.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS REGIONAL SOCIAL SERVICES (SIRSS)

Karen Freitag, SIRSS Executive Director

Established in 1960, Southern Illinois Regional Social Services (SIRSS) is proud of its long-term relationship with the SIUC School of Social Work. “We have trained a lot of social work students over the years,” says Karen Freitag, SIRSS Executive Director. “We also employ full-time staff who are graduates at the bachelor’s and master’s degree levels.”

Freitag herself has a Master’s Degree in Social Work, holding her Bachelor’s Degree in Social Work from SIU. Other SIRSS staff with Master’s Degrees in Social Work include Peg Falcone, Barb Grear, Melissa Johnson and Shawna LaPaglia.

When asked “What’s new at SIRSS?” Freitag responded that SIRSS has grown so much in recent years that a new building is needed. “We are planning to build an inviting new facility that will enhance service delivery to our many clients,” says Freitag.

For more information about SIRSS and its services, visit the SIRSS website at www.sirss.org. To get involved with the planning and fundraising for the new building, contact Peg Falcone at 618-457-6703 x 227 or pfalcone@sirss.org.

Moreover, there have been proposals to begin new programs in Egypt, Canada, Greece and to expand the existing study abroad Germany program. Dr. Dhruvodi Mukherjee, Assistant Professor, has been working on developing a new course on International Social Work theory and practice for graduate and undergraduate level students; this will sync well with the overall mission of the department in promoting international linkages. When social work programs across the country are showing renewed interest in initiating international study programs concerning abroad, the SSW has been progressing steadily towards creating its own niche in imparting a quality education and training in international social work.
